100; St. Paul, 7,300. The week opened on the Stock Exchange with an irregular market, and the tone of speculation was unsettled throughout the greater part of the day. There was very heavy trading in Chicago Gas, the transactions in which were one-third of the total sales. At the opening free offerings of the oz. stock were made, and a sharp break was made in the early dealings of 2% per cent, ex-dividend of 1½ per cent. The selling was credited to inside interests in the main, but the bears put out some fresh lines on re-ports of complications in the annual meet-ing in Chicago, which rendered necessary an adjournment without electing directors. an adjournment without electing directors. At the lowest figures there was some covering of short contracts, which caused a recovery of 1 per cent., of which % per cent. was lost in the final dealings, making the loss on the day 2½ per cent. Sugar came next in point of activity, but moved within very much narrower limits. Opening at an advance of ½ per cent., the shares quickly declined 1%, on a report that the annual report had been made up and was an unfavorable statement. The depression was but temporary, and on good buying, induced by emporary, and on good buying, induced by the lower figures, an improvement of 1% per cent. was recorded, with a reaction of % at the close, making a gain of ½ per cent. on Saturday's last sales. Distilling cent. on Saturday's last sales. Distilling was among the most firmly held stocks traded in, sailing up % in the morning, and losing only % of the gain. Of the granger stocks, St. Paul alone showed any activity, but there was moderate buying of the other shares of the group on Chicago orders. They fluctuated within a range of % 7% per cent., St. Paul closing unchanged on the day, and Rock Island ¼ and Burlington and Northwest ¼ higher. After an opening loss of %, Louisville & Nashville rose 1% to 54%, on reported increase in earnings, reacting % at

The trading in the rest of the was light, and the movement of prices was, with some few exceptions, unimportant, but the general trend was toward higher figures, and in most cases the closing figures show gains on the day, the more material of which are: Illinois Central, 3 per cent.; Southern preferred, 1; Toledo & Ohio Central lost 5 per cent., and do. pre-

Many Townships Depend Entirely Upon State Funds-No Special Levy.

The auditors of Marion and Vigo counties yesterday pald into the State treasury the amounts due on account of the school funds and were given a quietus. These funds are not affected by the question of fees, and the advance was made in order that the Superintendent of Public Instruction might complete his apportionment. The apportionment distributes nearly a million and a half dollars among the several counties of the State, the total amount being $1,435,061.70. It is shown that $187,439.66 was received from various counties through the operation of the law of 1833, under which the late Attorney-general secured his heavy fees. The total number of school children in the State is 808,261. An investigation of the reports from the several counties shows the number of townships which failed to make a tax levy for special school or tuition purposes. The number is quite large, and the only explanation of the fact is that the State distribution gives these townships so much more than they pay into the State school fund that they are enabled to run their schools as long as they want without taxing themselves. There is a case of this kind in Gibson county that has officially come under the investigation of the present Attorney-general, Mr. Ketcham. There has been one case of unexpended balance in the northern part of the State that has attracted attention. The township trustee contracted with the teachers for nine months schools closing of the schools at the end of five months. This left a large sum of money on hand which was due, ender the contract, to the teachers, but was not paid to them. The Attorney-general made demand for the money as the law requires him to do, and refundment was refused by the trustee, who said he intended to make up the lost salary to the teachers this year, as they were not responsible for the presence of the disease which broke up their schools. Such is the working of the law, however, that the Atterney-general had no recourse except to demand its payment to the State.

The reports from all the counties are not yet in. So far as reported the townships which received enough money without loca taxation for tuition and special school fund Scott county-No tuition; tax levied in Jennings and Lexington townships.

HEAVY SELLING OVERCAME INFLU-EXCE OF DECREASED VISIBLE.

May Wheat Finished B-Se Down, with Corn and Oats 1-te Off, and Provisions Unchanged.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.-Wheat was easier despite a decrease in the visible supply and closed %c lower for May, influenced by liberal selling. May corn closed 4c lower. May oats %c lower and provisions finished with but little change. Wheat started easy in tone at 1/3c decline. Trade was not brisk, but the preponderance of orders from outside was to sell, and the local crowd observing that, were in a hurry to square themselves with apparent different outside opinion. The news of the day with the exception of an increase of 1,120,-600 bushels in the quantity on ocean passage, for the United Kingdom and continent, was bullish. May, which opened at 58%@ 58%c, declined in the course of an hour to 58%@58%c and showed but little inclination to react until after the publication of the visible supply statement, which being construed bullishly, caused a recovery to 58% 658%c, which was, however, again followed by another decline. The visible supply decreased 1,271,000 bushels, which was about as generally looked for by the conservative bulls. Outside of the regular market news was a dispatch copied from the New York World, stating that owing to scorching winds in Australia, wheat was being cut for hay. Receipts at primary markets amounted to 259,000 bushels against 263,000 bushels on Mondoy last and 45,000 bushels a year ago. Chicago so this a year ago. Chicago got thirty-nine cars. Minneapolis 221 and Duluth thirty-two. The last two named places fell short eighty cars of their receipts at the corresponding time last year. Clearances from the At-lantic ports and New Orleans amounted in wheat and flour to 240,000 bushels of which 48,000 bushels was wheat. The foreign markets were firm. London quoted wheat and flour 6d per quarter and 3d per sack, re-spectively, higher. Paris was a shade higher for wheat and flour and Berlin reported an advance of from ½ to ¾ marks. Millers an advance of from ½ to ¾ marks. Millers in Ontario, Canada, were reported as bidding 7lc f. o. b., at Buffalo for some Manitoba wheat which is held in bond there, originally intended for shipment to Europe. The market showed a tendency toward recovery near the end, May closed at 58%c.

The corn market was without special features of its own. It followed in a lazy way the course of wheat, but its fluctuations were confined within a narrower limit. The cut in rail rates to the East continued

The cut in rail rates to the East continued to be commented on hopefully by those who desire to see prices advance. Receipts at Chicago were 219 cars, of which three only were of the contract grade. For toonly were of the contract grade. For to-morrow the estimated receipts are 410 cars. May opened at 48½c and 48¾c was paid for a limited quantity. After that the market ruled weak as a rule and having declined to 48c, it was with difficulty raised ½c over that, but only to go still lower near the close, 47½c being quoted within ten min-utes of the end, but closed at 48c. In oats business was quiet. Early in the In oats business was quiet. Early in the day but little inquiry existed, which with the influence of corn, could be credited to the slight strength noticeable then. Later, however, this disposition was principally to sell and as corn also weakened, oats did lil; ewise, remaining so during the greater part of the session. May started at 31½c, sold at 31½c and declined to 30%c, where Provisions were very dull, but steady. Hog receipts exceeded the estimate, but prices at the yards were higher and that aided the speculative market. Fluctuations were narrow and there was little trading either way. May pork closed 2½c higher and May lard and ribs unchanged. Elsewhere. CHICAGO, Jan. 14 .- In cattle the first estimates of to-day's receipts were around 17,000. Later in the morning it looked as it the total might reach 19,000, consequently while the early feeling was one of comparative steadiness, there was a sensibly weaker feeling soon after the opening. The bulk of the stuff was finally worked off at a reer feeling soon after the opening. The bulk of the stuff was finally worked off at a reduction varying from 5c to 15c. It took pretty good cattle to bring as much as $5, and sales at higher figures were scattering. Steers sold principally at $3.65.75, and the prevalling prices for cows was $2.15.73.15. Extra steers were quoted around $5.65 and extra heifers and bulls sold at $3.50.03.75. The quality of the hegs on to-day's market was poor. Good heavy hogs were a scarce article, and being in active demand sold strong, the average of prices being 10c higher than for Saturday. There was less change in common light and light mixed lots. The extreme range of quotations for merchantable lots was $3.85.04.80. Very few sales were made above $4.65, nor was there much business below $4. Light weights scarce, selling largely at $4.10.04.30 and from $4.40 to $4.60 taking the bulk of the averages of 250 to 350-pound hogs. Shippers bought freely, and so did local packers.

In sheep, after opening dull and easy under the impression that receipts would reach 18,000, the market became fairly active and firm when it was discovered that from 15,000 to 16,000 would cover the day's supply. NEW PERIL IN GRIP.

If You Don't Watch Out You May Be Wedded and Not Know It.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.-A most remarkable story of an involuntary marriage is told by Westcott S. Zittel. Mr. Zittel is a son of the wealthy real estate broker. He is twenty-seven years old, a member of the Seventh regiment and prominent in social circles. According to his story he was married unbeknown to himself and abducted and when he recovered his senses he was in Morristown, N. J. Mr. Zittel has been suffering severely from grip for the past two weeks and has been under the care of a physician. Last Friday week he was taken sick and went to the apartments of Frederick Bocker, janitor. He declares that he lost consciousness while lying on the sofa and while his mind was a blank he was wedded to Emma, the eighteen-year-old daughter of the janitor. He knew nothing for a week, he declares, and when he regained his senses he was at the house of Frederick Richter, at Morristown, N. J. Miss Bocker was with him. When he asked what he was doing in New Jersey she calmly told him she was his wife and brought him there for his health. She showed him a wedding ring and a certificate in support of her statement. Zittel vas convinced that he had been the victim of a conspiracy of some kind and he humsed conspiracy of some kind and he hurried back to New York. The girl followed, going to her father's nome. She visited the parents of Zittel, told her story and the young man was promptly repudiated. Sick and heartbroken, with no money, he sought his friend, Dr. Page, and told his story. The physician at once gave him shelter. He found a revolver in Zittel's possession and asked him what he was doing with it. "Oh, I'm only going to kill that girl and then end my own life," he replied. The doctor disarmed him and has kept a sharp watch on him ever since. He says he had over $100 in his pockets when he went to Bocker's and it disappeared. Zittel is demoralized, mentally, and he will be removed. ized, mentally, and he will be removed to a sanitarium. He has engaged counsel and will fight the matter in the courts.

JAPANESE SOLDIERS.

and German troops, though in this respect they do not compare unfavorably with the French marines we occasionally see in Japan. They are, however, a sturdy set of men, trained scientifically, well nourished, and thoroughly equipped. The noncommissoned officers, who are supposed to repre-sent the ideal of soldierly training, appear exceptionally well fitted for their positions. Save in the matter of stature they would do credit to any army. The pains taken to meet their wants are extraordinary. Aside from the usual military overcoats, each private is supplied with a power overcoats. each private is supplied with a heavy blanket overcoat with a fur collar and an im-mense hood, the ends of which fall down in front, forming a special protection for the breast fully to the waist. This is but a sample of the ways in which the soldiers are reminded of the interest which centers in them and the sacrifices the nation gladly
